

Introduction for David Bizianes

David Bizianes grew up in Hikes Point a neighborhood in Louisville, Kentucky. He learned to work at his family music shop, Bizianes Music Mart in the Highlands in Louisville, Kentucky, repairing and selling instruments, sweeping the floors, and teaching piano lessons.

He currently serves as President at Oldham Chamber & Economic Development where he is responsible for business attraction, retention, and development while providing programs and services to the grow the business community in Oldham County.

In his free time David enjoys playing piano, performing stand-up and fishing with his wife Beth, son, Jack and daughter, Ella.

He is excited to participate in helping to promote the stories that enrich our understanding of the complex human history of our country