

Henry Bibb, Voice of the Fugitive

Description: The first Black editor of a newspaper in Canada, Bibb is a native Kentuckian who made many escape attempts including one in which he lost his wife and daughter. He wrote and published his slave narrative, The Life and Adventures of Henry Bibb: An American Slave. He earned enough money from his writings to establish a refuge colony in Canada and was reunited with his brothers and his mother before his untimely death.