

Introduction for Kevin Eldridge

Kevin was born and raised in Oldham County and still lives there 60 years later. He owns and operates the family business started by his father in 1964, an auto repair shop. He has served several terms as a Magistrate for Oldham County Fiscal Court. He is the current chair of the Oldham County Historical Society and has served on the Board of Directors since 1996. He has helped to oversee a $2 million renovation campaign to update accessibility standards and renovate the historic buildings on the Oldham County History Center campus.

Kevin with his wife, Karen, enjoy boating and the beach. They also enjoy reading and studying history. In his words, "I was excited to be able to further my own education of the Underground Railroad while helping others to learn as well. I am always happy to get people involved in the Oldham County Historical Society, its mission and our history museum."
