

Matilda Hamilton Fee, Kentucky Abolitionist

Description: Born into a family of abolitionists outside of Augusta, Kentucky, Matilda became a partner with her husband, the Rev. John G. Fee, in the fight against slavery. Matilda's courage often placed her in grave danger, including an instance where she placed herself between her husband and a murderous gang to save his life.