

Biography of Terri Miller

Terri Miller is a native of Lexington, Kentucky and moved to Oldham County in 2001. Terri attended the University of Kentucky where she graduated with both her Bachelor's and Masters of Social Work degrees. She is currently retired, and enjoys photography, art, and gardening.

Terri is on the board of the Oldham County History Center and a member of the annual gala committee. She is currently serving as Chairperson for the History Center's Campus Renovation Campaign. In addition to the Oldham County History Center, Terri is a member and supporter of the Arts Association of Oldham County, Yew Dell Gardens, and the Humane Society of Oldham County. She has worked as a volunteer at Yew Dell with their garden sculpture show, at the annual plant sale, as well as in the gardens. Terri has been a sponsor and volunteer with the Arts Association's Bluegrass Independent Film Festival, Arts on the Green, and the annual Animal Attraction art show.

Terri and her husband, Dave, have been married almost 31 years and enjoy life with their English Pointers, Benny and Finn.